Week 6

Every good thing must come to an end and this week we are finishing up the Mandala Free-motion Challenge Quilting Along by looking to the outside of our quilt...the borders. In this video, we are going to learn a couple different options for quilting the borders of our Mandala panel.

Your Challenge

If you're quilting along with me on the custom Mandala panel, quilt the borders. Try any of the options shown in the tutorial, or come up with your own!

If you purchased the coordinating thread collection, use the yellow or white thread for this section.

Crosshatching

Use the fabric design to help guide your quilting design decisions. Traveling along the lines of the print will allow you to create a crosshatch effect without marking. Or just quilt the lines in one direction and fill in between them with a different filler design.

Motifs

In the light gray section of the border, try quilting a motif to add interest. Whether you quilt a feather motif or incorporate serpentine lines, it's sure to look great on your quilt.
